

Support the Avon and Women's Aid Speak Out Against Domestic Violence Campaign

As part of its Speak Out Against Domestic Violence Campaign, beauty company Avon has joined forces with Women's Aid to help support women in Ireland experiencing domestic violence. Money raised from the sale of the exclusive Avon Empowerment Necklace will help the organisation's work to end domestic violence in Ireland.

The delicate chain necklace features a silver-plated infinity symbol which represents unity and a future without limitations for women. It is hoped the necklace will raise funds and support Women's Aid's work to raise awareness about domestic violence.

“One in five women in Ireland will experience domestic violence at some point in their lives, and half of all women murdered in Ireland are killed by a partner or ex-partner.” - Women's Aid

Women's Aid National Freephone Helpline 1800 341 900
10am-10pm, 7 Days (Free & Confidential Service for all in the Republic of Ireland)

The necklace costs €4.50 and can be purchased through a network of independent Avon sales representatives all over Ireland. To see an Avon brochure or find your nearest representative, contact 01-870 6540 or visit www.avon.ie.

You can also purchase it by contacting Stefania Demurtas in Women's Aid at 01-868 4721 or emailing comms@womensaid.ie

Avon's support of Women's Aid is part of a global Avon campaign launched to mark International Women's Day on 8th March 2009.

